Inspired by Sadhguru's call, Pattukkottai doctor names daughter Kaveri Shree

11 June 2020, Coimbatore: A doctor from Kaveri delta region in Tamil Nadu has named his newborn daughter Kaveri Shree inspired by Sadhguru's appeal during the Cauvery Calling campaign to name all girls born in the coming year after river Kaveri.

Dr. Shri Shakshi Surendran father of the child said "Sadhguru was in Tanjore during the Cauvery Calling campaign. My wife and I went to see him. At the event, Sadhguru said that Kaveri was not an issue as people refer to her, She is our life. He said her name should be spoken with love and gratitude and appealed to everyone to name their girl children born the coming year after the river so that our hearts fill with love when we say the name Kaveri. My wife and I were very impressed with this and decided that if we have a daughter, we will name her after Kaveri."

Dr. Surendran's wife delivered a baby girl on 29 May 2020 and the couple named the baby Kaveri Shree.

"I was born and brought up in the Kaveri river district. I see Isha Volunteers working hard to revive the river by promoting agroforestry. When my daughter Kaveri is 12 years old, I hope that our mother Kaveri will flow and enrich our lives as well," the doctor said.

He took to Twitter to announce the birth and naming of his daughter and sought Sadhguru's blessings. He was not disappointed, "Now that you have named #KaveriShree after Mother Kaveri, you have committed to nurturing two glorious lives.

May both Mother Kaveri and Daughter Kaveri become a source of abundance & joy. Blessings” Sadhguru tweeted.
